OCTOBER PROGRAM

“WHAT’S NEW IN MARINE ELECTRONICS”

The speaker at the October 22, 2013 Membership Meeting will be Steve Lane, Electronics Manager at Green Top. Steve will give a talk about what is the latest marine electronic gear available for the sport angler. Steve will have examples with him of the newer Lowrance sonar and GPS units. Bring your need-to-get lists and your questions about marine electronics. You may hear about an item that would fit in that empty corner of your center console.

NEWEST VAC MEMBER – JOE LOVASZ, SR.

Joe Lovasz, Sr. was voted into Membership in the Virginia Anglers Club on September 24th, 2013. Joe Sr. joins Joe Lovasz, Jr., his son, who himself is a 2013 New Member of the Club. More about Joe, Sr. is found on page 5 of this Angler.

TWO TOURNAMENTS LEFT IN THE VAC ANGLING YEAR

Next Tournament - Virginia Speckled Trout

(October 26th and 27th - Blow Dates Nov. 2nd and 3rd)

A write-up with details for this tournament can be found on page 8 of this issue of The Angler

James River VA (Chippokes Creek) Gar

(November 23-24 (no blow date)

Details coming in the November Angler.

A REMINDER FOR NEW MEMBERS

The 2013 Angling Year Closes on November 30, 2013. Entry Cards must be received no later than 21 days after the date of the catch. To be considered for 2013 Angling Awards, the deadline for receipt of Entry Cards is December 10th. The “date of receipt” is the postmark on a mailed entry card or the date a director or officer of the VAC is given a card.

10TH ANNUAL CNR MEMORIAL ROCKFISH TOURNAMENT (NOVEMBER 23RD)

You may remember the “How to Catch Rockfish” program presented at the September VAC Membership Meeting by Capt. Ryan Rogers, owner of Midnight Sun Charters. Ryan mentioned this is an annual tournament put on in memory of his brother, Casey Neal Rogers, who passed away in 2003 in an automobile accident. This local tournament raises money for scholarships, and helps the Fairfield’s Volunteer Fire Department. Proceeds go to the CNR Memorial Scholarship Fund, that provides a baseball/softball/football scholarship to a deserving Northumberland High School senior who possesses many of Casey’s qualities, plays baseball/softball/football for Northumberland, has at least a “B” average, and plans to attend a four-year university. For more details about the entry fee, tournament events, Calcutta and weigh in locations, please see the entry form on page 6 of this issue of The Angler. The link to the tournament is: www.cnrtournament.com.

LAST CALL – ANGLING RULE CHANGE SUGGESTIONS

The VAC Angling Rules Committee will be meeting soon to work on any rule changes that they think are needed or that are suggested by any Member Year. Contact any member and let them know if you want a change in the Angling Rules discussed. Changes in Angling Rules, if any, will be announced at the November 24th Membership Meeting and covered in The Angler.

To date, no suggestions have been received. Please do not wait any longer to turn your suggestions loose.

The members of the Committee, Chaired by Stuart Lee, are ready to take any comments members might have. The other members are Bill Duval, Glenn Carter, Buddy and Danny Noland and Billy Nicar.

SPECIAL RAFFLE WON BY SAL PALUSO

Sal was the lucky winner of the September raffle of a “Buff” multifunctional headwear and the fishing guide, The Ultimate Fly Fishing Guide – Guide to the Great Smokey Mountains. The proceeds of the raffle were included in a donation by the VAC that will support the classes titled “Beau’s Crown Grant Class” that August speaker Beau Beasley is presenting around the Commonwealth.

CALL FOR CALENDER MONEY NOT TURNED IN

Please send Don West any outstanding payments you have for the calendars you picked up on credit. The Club needs to wrap up the accounting for this program promptly.

2014 DGIF OUTDOOR CALENDARS AVAILABLE AT OCTOBER MEETING

Special Activities Chairman Don West will have the last 30 copies of the 2014 DGIF Outdoor Calendars at the October Membership Meeting. The selling price remains the same as last year.... $8.00 each. Please have your customers lined up and see Don for however many calendars you need. Generous terms are available for multiple copy “orders”. Pay by cash or check.

CAN’T MAKE THE OCTOBER MEETING TO GET CALENDERS?

HOME DELIVERY AVAILABLE!

Don West will personally deliver to you any number of 2014 DGIF Outdoor Calendars you will need for your sales. Call Don at his office at 371-6748 or his home at 897-8723 and let him know how many copies of the calendars you will need. Don will gladly deliver the number of calendars you need to your home, your business or where ever else it will be convenient for you to pick calendars up from Don. At this late date, please have the proper funds available to give Don at the time of delivery.

COUNTRY STORE CLOSED FOR OCTOBER MEMBERSHIP MEETING

Even though October is an even numbered month, the Country Store will not be open at the October Membership Meeting. The Store will be open at the November Meeting, time last the Store will be open in 2013.

If you have a special need for an item from the Country Store that you cannot be present to pick out of stock, please contact Storekeeper Eddy Johnston (fishhead55@hotmail.com) and arrange a special pick up.

STEP UP AND HELP LEAD THE VIRGINIA ANGLERS CLUB

Our club just does not happen. A group of twenty-two (22) volunteer Members, some elected by the membership) form the Leadership Team of the Virginia Anglers Club. Some jobs require attending the monthly Board of Directors’ Meeting (2nd Tuesday of each month) and other have attendance that is “seasonal” (e.g. Banquet Chairman and Surf Team Captain). No prior experience is needed; just an interest and commitment to help the VAC offer the diverse programs and activities it provides to the Membership.

If you are interested in stepping forward for consideration to be part of the Leadership Team, please let President Glenn Carter know at: glennfishes@gmail.com

THE ETHANOL DEBATE

LEAVE YOUR TANK FULL OR EMPTY OVER THE WINTER?

Odds are that you are thinking, "Man, here we go again; same old debate that will never end". Member Bob Brown, the VAC's semi-official wizard of the outboard motor, has provided a good commentary on the subject of what to do with fuel while your boat is stored in a fancy storage facility or just sitting idle in your drive way collecting leaves and spiders. The write up from the October 2013 issue of Seaworthy is reproduced on page 7 of this issue of The Angler.

Bottom line, if you can remove all fuel, do it completely (tank, fuel lines, filter and engine) and do it safely. If you cannot remove the fuel, then fill the tank, stabilize the fuel in the tank and then run the stabilized fuel all thru the fuel system and engine. A ten minute run of the engine should get stabilized fuel all thru your fuel system and engine. Alcohol and water is not a good mix for anything associated with boating, except at the dock at the end of the day when poured over ice and enjoyed while cleaning the day's magnificent catch.

ANGLING-THEMED ART OFFERED FOR SALE

Member Jim Sheffield is selling six pieces of art. Two wall hangings feature a cluster of three sailfish in color and a leaping school of dolphin in pewter. The four signed, limited edition prints featured are:

"Fog Over Bloody Point" by John Barber (730/950)

"Smokers" by Randall McKissick (81/150)

"Top Billing" by John Doyle (19/199)

"At Oyster Bar-Red Drum" by Russ Smiley (95/500)

Colored pictures of these six items and pricing can be viewed at:

"Catchy Comments"

By Billy Nicar

Well... It is officially striper season. You don't have to own a calendar or a copy of VMRC's annual regulations to know that the season has opened. Just look outside. Rain, wind, cooler temperatures, and fog are all signal that it is time. I've heard that there are some fish to be caught... If the wind would lie down. From October 04, 2013 through December 31, 2013 there is a two fish limit. Fish kept can measure from 18" to 28" in length. One of the two fish can exceed 28" in length. Go get 'em boys! Just don't forget the Old Bay seasoning and lemon.

I would like to state that I have made a few mistakes in the last publication. I am still trying to learn this process and apologize for any inconvenience that this may have caused. I mistakenly added Raymond Nuckols' release tarpon, worth 86 points, as the "Heaviest" and "Highest Points" for the species. I also did the same for Andrew Campbell's 90 point cobia. These entries were not valid due to a 100 point minimum entry requirement. Andrew Campbell's 4 pound, 3 ounce northern pike will also be removed as the "Heaviest" for the species as will Sal Peluso's entry for the "Highest Points" for northern pike as these categories are reserved for local catches only. Valid entries or not, these are some fish to be extremely proud of. Great fish guys!

On September 15th, Bobby Broughton found himself fishing with Stuart Lee for smallmouth bass on the New River in Virginia. While casting an artificial fluke on 6# spinning tackle, Bobby landed a 1 pound, 12 ounce smallmouth bass worth 100 points. This smallmouth earned Bobby enough points to take second place in the "Angler of the Month" competition at September's meeting. Meanwhile, a couple hundred miles away on Hungers Creek, Bob Shepherd is casting a Mirro Lure She Dog when he hooks into a 4 pound, 8 ounce spotted seatrout. Bob's catch, made on 4# plug tackle, earns him 225 points for the catch and the first place position for September's "Angler of the Month" competition.

Robbie Robinson and Jeff Doughty with some nice Black Sea Bass

Jeff Doughty submitted a pair of cards this month. Both of the entries were caught the same day while fishing the Piankatank River with his friend Jeff Clodfelter on September 27th. Jeff's first catch was a white perch weighing in at 15 ounces and worth 170 points on 6# plug tackle. This fish will now stand as the club record on 6# plug tackle and "Heaviest" for the species in the 2013 fishing year. That same day Jeff landed a 12 ounce spot on live bait which he entered into the 6# general tackle class. This fish will earn Jeff 129 points for the catch, as well as, the title of "Heaviest" and "Highest Points" for the species. Nice job Jeff!

Keep the entries coming! As the temperatures get cooler, the fishing gets hotter.

Please let me know if you have any fun, exciting, informational, or scary fish tales from your recent trips out. I would love to include them in future newsletters. Any recent fishing reports or conditions would be greatly appreciated as well. I can be contacted via phone, email, or text. My contact info is listed below. As always, tight lines and best fishes!

MEET NEW MEMBER JOE LOVASZ, SR.

Joe Sr.'s early angling experience included mating on his New Jersey neighbor's head boat to pay for college. Joe Sr. had a 32 year career with Allied Signal/Honeywell and retired from the latter. His moves with the companies presented him with fishing opportunities in North Carolina, Louisiana and finally Virginia. Joe Sr. then started a financial consulting business and retired from that after 9 years of creating millions for his clients. Joe Sr.'s present angling enjoyment comes from angling for flounder and striped bass. Having saturated Joe Jr. with his fishing knowledge and skills, Joe Sr. has grandchildren to bring along as skilled anglers.

Joe Sr.'s boat is a Jupiter 26 Center Console. When he and Joe, Jr. drove down to Ft. Lauderdale to pick up the new boat and do sea trials, the dealer offered to take the Joes fishing as part of the break in of the new boat. The Joes and the dealer spent a half of a day catching dolphin and getting to know their new boat. How is that for a full service dealer? Joe Sr. is now well equipped to pursuer his angling preferences, fishing the Chesapeake Bay and wetting line off shore from Virginia and North Carolina.

DAVID K. WHITEHURST, DIRECTOR, VDGIF BUREAU OF WILDLIFE RESOURCES AWARDED THE SETH GORDON AWARD

David K. Whitehurst, Director, VDGIF Bureau of Wildlife Resources, has been awarded the Seth Gordon Award at the Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies' (AFWA) 103rd Annual Meeting held September 10th in Portland, Oregon. The Seth Gordon Award is AFWA's highest honor. Established in 1970, it is given to recognize the lifetime achievements of natural resource administrators who have worked steadfastly and effectively towards the 'best use' of North American natural resources, and to honor an individual for his/her outstanding career in fish and wildlife conservation. "It's a great honor for the Department to see David recognized by the country's leading wildlife professionals for his years of hard work and his passion for protecting and conserving Virginia's rich wildlife and natural resources," said VDGIF Executive Director, Bob Duncan. "David's contributions to fish and wildlife management have made a huge impact on the lives of everyone who cherish the outdoors and on the thousands of species of animals that thrive in the Commonwealth."

THE ETHANOL DEBATE*LEAVE YOUR TANK FULL OR EMPTY OVER THE WINTER?

Ever since E10 (a gasoline blend with 10 percent ethanol) became widespread, there have been two schools of thought when it comes to winterizing your boat: Keep the tank full, or empty it completely. Both sides agree on the basic facts. Ethanol is hydrophilic — it attracts and holds water. Small amounts of water will be burned in the combustion cycle, but ethanol can only absorb so much water. When it becomes completely saturated, phase separation occurs, and the corrosive ethanol-water mixture sinks to the bottom of the tank. If the engine is run, this mixture can damage seals, O-rings, injectors, and other delicate engine parts. The upper “gasoline” layer will be depleted of ethanol and have a reduced octane level, which can also cause engine problems. If a tank is left partially full, there is more room in the tank, which means more surface area for condensation formation and less ethanol to absorb the resulting water. Cycling temperatures from warm to cold also increases the amount of condensation. Finally, ethanol cannot absorb as much water at low temperatures as it can when it’s warmer, so the gasoline will phase separate more quickly in colder temperatures.

The obvious answer is to completely empty the tank — and even the fuel lines and filters if possible. But any boat owner with a gas tank capacity of more than a few gallons will tell you how problematic it is to completely drain it, and some indoor storage facilities don’t allow empty tanks because they may contain volatile fumes (usually there is an exception for portable tanks that are empty and uncapped). USCG regulations prohibit drain valves on the bottom of a gas tank (imagine what would happen if one corroded through or broke off, leaving a bilge full of gasoline) so the only way to remove gas from a large tank is by pumping it out. Too many of our claim files prove that using something like a shop vac to do the job will land you in the hospital. Finding ignition-protected equipment and transporting and disposing of the gas afterward is simply not practical for the average boat owner.

That’s why Seaworthy has always been in the keep-it-full camp. We are, after all, boat owners, so we’re forced to take our own advice. If it’s impractical or impossible to empty the tank completely, then keeping it full should make it more difficult for enough water to get into the fuel to cause problems. But just in case we missed something, we asked some industry experts for their thoughts on the subject.

Bob Popiel, head of marine service at Yamaha, said his preference is complete draining of the fuel system including tank, fuel lines, carburetor bowls, and the vapor separator tank (VST). VSTs, he says, can hold a cup of fuel and they’re vented to the atmosphere, as are carburetor bowls. The VST has a drain, but it is hard to access for a typical owner, while on older engines, carburetor bowls have drains that most people can get to, he says. Draining the system is even more important on older engines (10-15 years old) because they don’t have the same ethanol-resistant parts that new engines do. That said, Popiel knows that draining the whole fuel system is often difficult, so another option is to simply disconnect the fuel supply and let the engine run out of fuel, which will at least drain most of the gas from the VST or float bowls. If you choose not to drain the system, he recommends adding a good quality stabilizer to fuel, topping up the tank, and running the engine enough to get fuel all the way through the system. Ten minutes ought to do it, he says.

John McKnight, director of environmental and safety compliance with the National Marine Manufacturers Association, says, if you’re storing gasoline for two months or more, try to drain the tank if possible. If it’s not practical, add stabilizer, fill the tank, and run the engine for 10 minutes to allow the treated gasoline to get into the fuel system.

Mercury Marine says that if it is difficult or not possible to remove the fuel, maintain a full tank of fuel with a fuel stabilizer added to provide fuel stability and corrosion protection. Top off the tank until it’s full to reduce the amount of exchange with the air that might bring in condensation, don’t cap the tank vent, and don’t fill with fuel to the point of overflowing so there is some extra space in the tank to allow for fuel expansion and contraction with temperature changes. So there you have it. If you can empty your tank — and entire fuel system — for the winter and your storage facility allows it, then do it. But where that’s impractical, keep the tank full, add a stabilizer, run the engine for 10 minutes, and sleep well.

TOURNAMENT NEWS

BY LEE ROTHGEB

Virginia Speckled Trout Tournament: October 26-27 (blow date following weekend)

Note: No tournament fishing inside private “hot ditch”.

Our tourney will be at a peak time for big fall spotted sea trout in Virginia. All state waters are open, but many will fish the Elizabeth River. The most popular location will be at the Chesapeake Yacht Ramp ($10 fee – honor box at ramp plus ramp user registration required), 1700 Shipyard Road in Chesapeake VA. (see map). For a ramp permit contact Kim 757-487-9100. These fish can be caught on many artificials, but floating live baits under corks or slow trolling are arguably the most productive methods for the heaviest trout. For light tackle points - various soft plastic baits and mirro-lures are effective on light spinning and plug gear. This launch is very easy to get to and fish in any trailerable boat or even jon boats and kayaks. If you have not tried it before, be sure to plan on fishing and learning with us. Contact Chairman to confirm event if weather is questionable.

Two ways to win! We will recognize three places for heaviest weight fish and three places for highest point fish. First = 3 pts. Second = 2 pts. Third = 1 pt. These points will apply towards the annual Salt Water Tournament Angler of the Year competition. Fish can be entered by weight or points (angler must declare which category) but not both ways for 1 fish. Only 2 fish can be entered per person.

You can register your catches by calling or e-mail entries to Angling Activities Chairman Lee Rothgeb: (804) 314-2990 or garbakk1021@aol.com
