(Commentary from the Board of Directors)

September Program - Fishing Casa Mar, Costa Rica

How many of you all remember the travel logs presented at the Mosque in years past? Robert Thomas of Fly Fish The World will keep the tradition alive by presenting an illustrated fishing log of an April trip Robert and 9 other area fly fishing enthusiasts took to Casa Mar, Costa Rica. VAC member Scott Johnston and his son were among the group. Angling was done with fly and spinning tackle. Casa Mar is on the east coast of Costa Rica and offers angling for tarpon, snook and other jungle species (jungle rules in effect??). Robert told me that bringing your own gear to Casa Mar is not necessary because this angling camp offers its own tackle that is high class gear that is equal to the task the targeted fish present. At the end of his presentation, Robert will take questions specific to the trip and also questions specific the fine art of fly-casting.

Annual Changes in Angling Rules Just Don't Happen By Themselves

During September and the coming months, Angling Rules Chairman Denny Cline will be advising the membership of changes in the Angling Rules that will be effective for the 2006 Angling Year starting December 1, 2005. The changes range from additions and deletions of fundamental rule content to a few word changes here and there to help clarify (but not change) some rules. An Angling Rules Committee composed of Bill DuVal, Danny Noland, Scott Johnston, Elly Robinson, Stuart Lee, and Glenn Carter and chaired by Denny completed a tedious angling rules review task during two meetings lasting 3 1/2 hours each. It is easy to see we had some of the most successful and experienced anglers in the club freely sharing their time, experiences and knowledge. The next time you see these men let them know you appreciate their efforts to help with the VAC Angling Rules Review Program. Some of the seven hours was hard time.

Opportunities Are Available To Help Lead The Club

The Nominating Committee composed of the current and past two club presidents (Lynn Spurlin, Fred Murray and John Wetlaufer, Sr.) is starting its work on the slate of officers for the 2006 Angling Year. Please take a minute to determine if you would like to step forward to help with the club leadership. Do not hesitate to indicate your interest in holding a club office or holding a club committee chairmanship. Some existing club directors, officers or committee chairmen hold more than one leadership position because there has been a lack of members who have wanted to help. Please let Lynn know of your interest in helping with the affairs of the club. Our club is as strong as the efforts we members put into it.

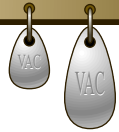

Club Calendar Sale A Complete Success

All 300 VDGIF 2005/2006 calendars have been sold. Many thanks from the VAC Leadership and Membership to John Butrico who stepped up to manage the sale of the calendars. Similar kudos to Honorary Member Don West who, single handedly, sold 200 calendars! Thanks to all who took up the call and helped with the sale of calendars. This year, the Club will not order additional calendars for resale. If you still need a calendar, they are available from the DGIF and area tackle shops such as Green Top Sporting Goods and Fly Fish The World.

Custom Ordered Shirts Available at September Membership Meeting

Keeper of the country store Eddy Johnston will have the custom ordered "T" and Golf shirts at the September Membership Meeting. Please arrange to pick up your shirt in person or have a friend pick it up for you. Some restocking of shirts will take place also. Support your local merchant.

www.virginiaanglersclub.org

At the suggestion of Director John Wetlaufer, Sr. with the approval of the Board of Directors and by the talents of Secretary Frank Dennis, the domain name www.virginiaanglersclub.org has been purchased by the VAC. This was a move to lock up a logical domain name for possible future club use. No immediate use is anticipated. If you try to connect to this on the Internet, no one will be home.

IGFA International Angling Rules Are Available On Line

The IGFA International Angling Rules are referenced in various places in the Virginia Angling Club Angling Rules. At times in the past, copies of the IGFA Rules has been passed out. These IGFA Rules are subject to change at any time and any previously obtained hard copy rules may be, in part, obsolete. If you go to www.igfa.org or do a search similar to a Google exact search for IGFA, you will be taken to the IGFA home page. Under the title "Fishing" in the banner running across the home page, you will find these rules as your second choice in a drop down menu. Click on Rules and you will be taken to the current copy of the IGFA International Angling Rules. This set of electronic rules is available anytime. The format is a 9-page PowerPoint presentation.

Bring Your Used Fishing and Hunting Magazines to the Next Meeting

Give the gift of used magazines. Bring your used fishing and hunting magazines to the next monthly meeting, and share them with fellow VA members. Fred Murray has volunteered to coordinate this endeavor. Fred will bring the 'unpicked' magazines back and forth to each meeting.

For the Leadership of the Virginia Anglers Club,

John Wetlaufer, Sr., Director

CATCHY COMMENTS

by Dennis Cline

August's Angler of the Month was Elly Robinson. Elly released a 28-0 barracuda on 6-spin that scored 430 points. Dennis Cline claimed second and third place with a 19-4 African pompano on 6-plug worth 427 points and a 32-0 cuda on 8-spin that scored 400 points.

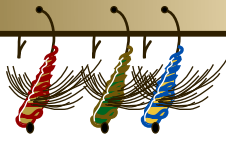

The wrecks off Ocracoke produced some nice catches for several other members. They included barracuda for David English (20-0), Mike Cline (25-0) and Robbie Robinson (30-0), who also landed a 2-4 black sea bass on 4-plug. Elly Robinson also chimed in with a 12-8 African on 6-plug. Closer to home, Buddy Noland caught a couple of nice black sea bass off the Triangle wrecks. One was a 4-0 on 6-plug and the other a 2-8 on 2-plug.

Dr. Jim Wright handed in a fistful of entries this month. While not all of them met club requirements, each was a potential citation fish in the VSFT. His catches included a 3-8 croaker, a 7-0 flounder, a white marlin release, a 75" shark release, a 9-8 sheepshead and a 49-0 wahoo. By my count, that brings him up to 15 species for citations this year.

Elsewhere in saltwater, Tony Horsley landed a pretty 6-4 flounder on 12 general off Cape Charles. Scott Johnston added another first for the club, a spot on 2 fly. His huge 0-4 spot is the smallest fish to ever qualify for a club record!! But never fear. I'm sure that Scott will improve on this record in the near future.

Success, finally!!! After a handful of members spent about 25 cumulative days battling sharks, rays and greenhead flies on the ES backcountry, several tarpon were finally caught and released. Bob Shepherd scored first with a 52-0 on 16 general. Of course, Bob had to do it on his first try! It took me about ten days on the water to get lucky, but I was real lucky. My tarpon came back-to-back. The first was a 60-0 that made a couple of great jumps, but never ran. After a few very loud yahoos and a gulp of Gatorade, the same rod doubled up again. Thirty-six minutes after the first, the second was landed. It was a tough 81-0 that made three great jumps and scorched off 150 yards of line. 'Twas the stuff dreams are made of!!!

Switching to freshwater, Scott Johnston claimed the 12-fly record for smallmouth bass with a 3-0 from the New River in West Virginia. Eddy Johnston released a 4-4 bowfin and a 10-8 gar on 2-general on Chickahominy Lake. Bill Gallasch and Glenn Carter scored on James River flatheads. Bill's fish was a club record 25-0 on 8-general and Glenn's was a 20-0 on 4-general.

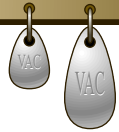

Finally, two members just returned from separate trips to Alaska. Rich McDaniel released a 10-12 Coho on 6-fly that scored 383 points somewhere in Alaska. Earlier that same week, Bill Carter and several friends enjoyed excellent fishing around Seward and on the Kenai River. Bill set club records for Coho salmon on 8-general and 12-plug with fish weighing 7-14 and 9-2 respectively. He also entered a club record 3-2 rainbow trout on 8-spin and a smaller rainbow on 6-fly. The party enjoyed lots of action with Dolly Varden, grayling and northern pike as well. For more details, check with Bill at the next club meeting.
